

Found!

Robby was excited! He found a wallet on the ground with a fifty-dollar bill tucked inside. He thought of all the ways he could spend the money. Maybe he could buy a shiny remote-control truck. Or, maybe he would buy the new video game he saw in his computer magazine. Suddenly, Robby saw that the wallet had a driver's license in it with someone's name and address. He thought about how sad that person must feel about losing the money and the wallet. Robby wanted to be a good citizen, so he decided to return the wallet and the money.

